Psalm 95:1-7 O come, let us sing unto the Lord: let us make a joyful noise to the rock of our salvation.

2 Let us come before his presence with thanksgiving, and make a joyful noise unto him with psalms.

3 For the Lord is a great God, and a great King above all gods.

4 In his hand are the deep places of the earth: the strength of the hills is his also.

5 The sea is his, and he made it: and his hands formed the dry land.

6 O come, let us worship and bow down: let us kneel before the Lord our maker.

7 For he is our God; and we are the people of his pasture, and the sheep of his hand. To day if ye will hear his voice.

In this great passage we find the how and whom of worship. Note the many forms of worship.

Oh come, let us sing to the LORD!

Let us shout joyfully to the Rock of our salvation.

Let us come before His presence with thanksgiving;

Let us shout joyfully to Him with psalms.

1. Let us sing to the Lord. We as a community sing to the Lord.
2. Let us shout joyfully to the Lord. God should be honored with a happy, enthusiastic heart. There is a place for a somber, reflective mood in worship, but it should not be the dominant tone. God's people have much to shout joyfully about..
3. Let us come before His presence with Thanksgiving. This means that worship should be done with a conscious sense of God's presence. God's people don't sing into empty space; He is in their presence and they are in His presence. There is – or should be – a true connection between God and His people in worship.
4. Let us shout joyfully to Him with psalms: This is what the psalmist himself intended with this psalm. We can also surmise that he turned the attention of God's people to the broader collection of psalms as a source of inspiration for their worship..
