Donated medical supplies

Dear Friends and supporters,

Thank you for your continued prayers, encouragement, and faithful support over these past several months! I am especially grateful for those of you who have taken the time to send an email, text, or simple hello to check in. These small acts of kindness have been a wonderful encouragement.

Nurse Practitioner Studies

I am excited to share that I am within two weeks of completing my second full nurse practitioner clinical rotation! Upon completion, I will have accumulated nearly 450 hours of hands-on clinical and patient care experience, leaving just one final 216-hour rotation before graduation. I am prayerfully working toward completing this final rotation by December and am increasingly eager to graduate and return to Brazil full-time!

However, I would greatly appreciate your prayers concerning my final clinical placement. Securing clinical sites and preceptors has been one of the greatest challenges of my program, with several arrangements unexpectedly falling through and causing delays. I am reminded that God faithfully provided the sites and preceptors for my first two rotations, often in ways I could not have anticipated. I know He is able to provide this final placement as well! Please pray that the necessary arrangements will come together quickly, as further delays could postpone my anticipated graduation and return to the mission field.

Health Updates

I would also appreciate your prayers regarding some recent health concerns.

After years of recurrent ear infections, I recently learned that I have significant hearing loss in both ears. I am scheduled for a CT scan next month to help determine the underlying cause and guide plans for possible surgery. I am hopeful that these concerns can be addressed before my return to Brazil and would appreciate your prayers for wisdom and patience as I navigate these medical decisions alongside the completion of my studies.

God's Continued Provision

Even amid these uncertainties, I have been encouraged by reminders of God's continued faithfulness. Recently, a dear ministry friend generously donated over $500 worth of medical supplies and wound-care dressings for our Amazon for Christ medical evangelism ministry! This incredible gift will provide more than enough supplies for our anticipated clinics next year.

What a wonderful reminder that even while I am waiting on God's provision for my immediate needs, He is already providing for the ministry opportunities ahead! I am excited to see how He will use these supplies to meet physical needs and open doors for sharing the Gospel throughout the Amazon region.

Thank you again for your faithful partnership in this ministry. Your prayers and encouragement are deeply appreciated as I work toward completing this final chapter of my education and preparing to return to Brazil. I look forward to sharing more updates on how God continues to lead and provide in the coming months!

In Christ,
