Fellowship Team Lead – Nikki Hoffman

I've been blessed to grow up in the church and to call Prince George home for most of my life. I've been married to my lifelong best friend, Dan, for 25 years, and we have four amazing kids who bring us so much excitement and joy! We've been part of FGBC since 2011, and I'm excited to see how God continues to move in our church and work in our lives.

I believe some of the best connections happen over a cup of good coffee and great food! Fellowship is about building community, creating opportunities to connect, and caring for one another in practical ways through meals, checking in, and praying together.

I'm excited to serve alongside our wonderful Fellowship Team as we care for our church family and create opportunities to connect through coffee ministry, BBQs, potlucks, and other events. As our church grows, my goal is to build a strong, stable team and grow it to be able to meet the challenges our growing community has. I'm also excited to grow our capacity to host church gatherings and I look forward to developing the multipurpose space in the ministry room where people can connect, enjoy a coffee, and build relationships throughout the week.

God Bless!

Discipleship Team Lead – Dale Horita

I became a believer as a child and was raised in a Christian household. I made a serious commitment to follow Christ at 17, when I began teaching pre-teen Sunday School with my dad. I, along with my wife Lorraine, have been active in the local church ever since. Much of that activity has involved teaching in various contexts, whether teen or adult Sunday School, Bible studies, or small groups. In addition, I have served in a variety of leadership roles (though never those involving music or food preparation as those were well beyond both my grasp and my gifts).

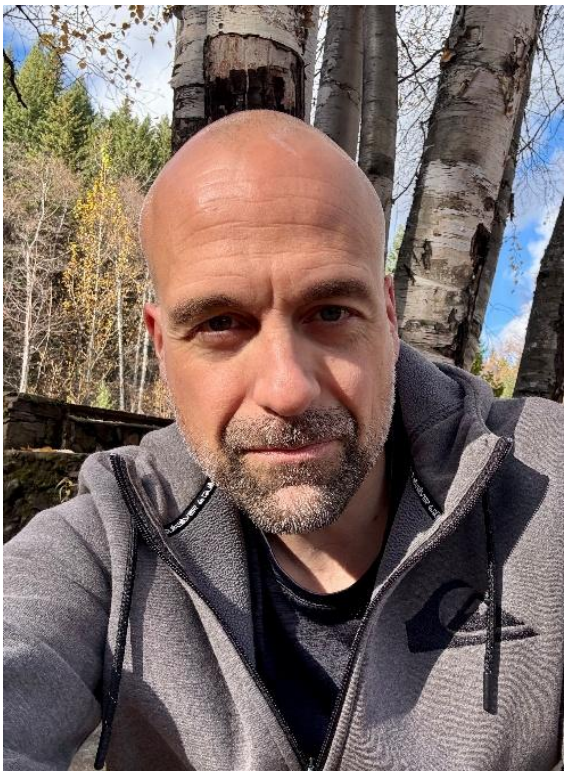

Now retired, I spent most of my working career teaching computer science and physics. There was tremendous satisfaction watching students grow, mature, and move on with their lives. I loved teaching!

The joy of teaching however, pales in comparison to the joy found when fellow believers grow in their relationship to Christ. When we are obedient to the Lord's call to "make disciples", the consequences are eternal. I believe discipleship happens best in community. Interaction together provides the opportunity to help others grow in their faith and for us to grow ourselves.

Mission Team Lead – Trevor Orcutt

I was living a pretty “normal” secular life up until a few years ago when I encountered Jesus and He completely changed me and continues to. It’s been my heart’s desire to seek Him, to follow Him, to draw nearer to Him everyday since. To learn, to grow and to share Him with others somehow. I’d say it’s my passion that if in some way, by something I’m doing, saying or sharing with others can in some way facilitate what Jesus wants to do to help them draw closer, encourage, or encounter Him in the first place, I’m all in. It’s my desire to be led by the Spirit, to follow Jesus through all of this as we, together as His Church, answer His calling to share the Gospel and reach out to the community that He’s placed us in. As a follower of Jesus, I believe the best thing we can do, is to nurture a willingness to participate in what He’s doing and wants to do through us; and with humility, compassion, in faith and obedience, to allow Him to just that.

Discipleship Team Lead – Dale Horita

I became a believer as a child and was raised in a Christian household. I made a serious commitment to follow Christ at 17, when I began teaching pre-teen Sunday School with my dad. I, along with my wife Lorraine, have been active in the local church ever since. Much of that activity has involved teaching in various contexts, whether teen or adult Sunday School, Bible studies, or small groups. In addition, I have served in a variety of leadership roles (though never those involving music or food preparation as those were well beyond both my grasp and my gifts).

Now retired, I spent most of my working career teaching computer science and physics. There was tremendous satisfaction watching students grow, mature, and move on with their lives. I loved teaching!

The joy of teaching however, pales in comparison to the joy found when fellow believers grow in their relationship to Christ. When we are obedient to the Lord's call to "make disciples", the consequences are eternal. I believe discipleship happens best in community. Interaction together provides the opportunity to help others grow in their faith and for us to grow ourselves.

