In Flanders Fields Written by John MaCrae, 1915 Please be seated

In Flanders fields the poppies blow
Between the crosses, row on row,
That mark our place; and in the sky
The larks, still bravely singing, fly
Scarce heard amid the guns below.

We are the Dead. Short days ago
We lived, felt dawn, saw sunset glow,
Loved and were loved, and now we lie,
In Flanders fields.

Take up our quarrel with the foe:
To you from failing hands we throw
The torch; be yours to hold it high.
If ye break faith with us who die
We shall not sleep, though poppies grow
In Flanders fields.

Act of Remembrance Written by Robert Binyon

They shall grow not old, as we that are left grow old:
Age shall not weary them, nor the years condemn.
At the going down of the sun and in the morning
We will remember them.
Response: We will remember them.

The First Reading

But the souls of the righteous are in the hand of God, and no torment will ever touch them. In the eyes of the foolish they seemed to have died, and their departure was thought to be a disaster, and their going from us to be their destruction; but they are at peace. For though in the sight of others they were punished, their hope is full of immortality. Having been disciplined a little, they will receive great good, because God tested them and found them worthy of himself; like gold in the furnace he tried them,and like a sacrificial burnt-offering he accepted them. In the time of their visitation they will shine forth, and will run like sparks through the stubble.They will govern nations and rule over peoples, and the Lord will reign over them for ever. Those who trust in him will understand truth,and the faithful will abide with him in love, because grace and mercy are upon his holy ones, and he watches over his elect.

(Wisdom 3:1-9)

Reader: The word of the Lord.
People: Thanks be to God.

Psalm 46

Refrain: God is our refuge and our strength
An ever present help in trouble.
Though the world may be in turmoil
Our fortress always is the Lord.

Though the earth give way and mountains fall into the sea
Though the waters surge and flood around us
Still we shall not fear for the Lord is always with us.

When the peoples are in uproar and nations go to war
Kingdoms fall and empires crumble in chaos around us
The city of God will stand firm and never fall.

See what the Lord has done he makes the wars to cease
He breaks the spear and the bow, he burns the shields with fire
He says to all the world, "Be still and know that I am God."

The Second Reading

Blessed be the God and Father of our Lord Jesus Christ! By his great mercy he has given us a new birth into a living hope through the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead, and into an inheritance that is imperishable, undefiled, and unfading; kept in heaven for you, who are being protected by the power of God through faith for a salvation ready to be revealed in the last time. In this you rejoice, even if now for a little while you have had to suffer various trials, so that the genuineness of your faith—being more precious than gold that, though perishable, is tested by fire—may be found to result in praise and glory and honour when Jesus Christ is revealed. Although you have not seen him, you love him; and even though you do not see him now, you believe in him and rejoice with an indescribable and glorious joy, for you are receiving the outcome of your faith, the salvation of your souls.

Jesus said to them, "Everything that the Father gives me will come to me, and anyone who comes to me I will never drive away; for I have come down from heaven, not to do my own will, but the will of him who sent me. And this is the will of him who sent me, that I should lose nothing of all that he has given me, but raise it up on the last day. This is indeed the will of my Father, that all who see the Son and believe in him may have eternal life; and I will raise them up on the last day."

Closing Hymn: “I Vow to Thee My Country”

I vow to thee, my country, all earthly things above entire and whole and perfect, the service of my love.
The love that asks no question, the love that stands the test that lays upon the altar, the dearest and the best.
The love that never falters, the love that pays the price.
The love that makes undaunted the final sacrifice.

And there's another country, I've heard of long ago
most dear to them that love her, most great to them that know.
We may not count her armies, we may not see her king.
Her fortress is a faithful heart, her pride is suffering.
And soul by soul, and silently her shining bounds increase.
And her ways are ways of gentleness, and all her paths are peace.
