We are just days away from Thanksgiving. My dad used to say we are getting ready to have "turkey and all the trimmings," and certainly Thanksgiving is a celebration of good food. In fact, when we think about Thanksgiving, food, family and maybe even football come to mind. It should also make us ask the question though what are we thankful for?

I asked this question at FCA the other evening at the University and several of the students responded with really good answers. I'm thankful for Jesus or I'm thankful for my family or my friends or I'm thankful for a chance to go to school. We have a tradition in our family where we go around the room and share what we are thankful for and many times we share those same answers and maybe the same answers that we have shared for years. Still there is something important about expressing Thanksgiving. The Bible tells us to "rejoice always" and to "give thanks in all circumstances." Of course, the Psalms are filled up with words of Thanksgiving. There truly is something important about being thankful. When we are thankful it reminds us of the goodness of God, it reminds us that life is not all about us, it leads us to humility, and it reminds us that we truly are blessed. Being thankful is important.

So, what are you thankful for? Hopefully all of us can say I'm thankful for Jesus. I'm thankful He took my sins away and for His continual presence in my life. Hopefully we can say I'm thankful for friends and family. Hopefully we can say I'm thankful for life and how God has blessed me. What would you say though if someone said, "dig deeper what else are you thankful for?" The Bible tells us that every good gift that we have in our lives is a gift from God. So, God is the giver of every good gift, with that in mind what else are you thankful for? Let's truly make this month a month of rejoicing and a month of thanksgiving.

PRAYER PROMPTS for week of November 16th:

- Pray that your pastor would remember that true resilience comes from a source beyond himself; pray that he would find joy and patience through divine strength in the face of challenges (Colossians 1:11)
- Pray for God to open doors for the gospel message; ask the Lord to convict hearts and proclaim the mystery of Christ to those without faith (Colossians 4:2-4)
- Lift up the children and youth in the congregation; pray that they would grow in their desire to live in accordance with God's Word, clothed in righteousness and remembering that He is their Creator God, pursuing faith, love and peace (Matthew 18:3-4; Proverbs 20:11; Psalm 71:17; 2 Timothy 2:22)
